Zero Energy (Never looked so good!)

91

Ah, a life without utility bills. DiGiacomo Homes is trying to make it a reality. The "Zero Energy Package," featured in this home designed with Petersen/Keller Architecture, includes green building and engineering via insulation, Integrity windows, solar panels, geo thermal, and tax credits. "It's not sexy," says owner Rocky DiGiacomo. "Most clients get more excited about picking out tile and finishes, but these systems pay for themselves. Savings are immediate." Looks pretty sexy to us.
