DESIGN/BUILD REVIEW

VOLUME 20, ISSUE 1

COLOR OF THE YEAR: EVERYONE HAS THE BLUES!

It's almost unanimous - the color experts have settled on blue for 2020. Paint manufacturers like Benjamin Moore and Sherwin Williams as well as design houses like Schumacher and Kravet have all embraced the blues! Each year designers and architects vote on the "color of the year." The results typically drive design for years to come - so you can expect to see blue (everything from a steely gray to classic Pantone) in the magazines, on home tours and at your favorite retailer. Interested in adding this splash of color to your home? Designers are skilled at pairing this statement favorite with other materials and finishes to create a timeless space.
